

Zion, Awake

William T. Hilsee, 1876

Ephesians 6:10–11

William J. Kirkpatrick, 1874

$\text{♩} = 80$
Introduction 3

5 3 3 3

1. Rouse thee soul, the day is fleet - ing: Look, life's sands are al - most run; Twi - light
2. Ranks Sa - tan - ic are ap - proach - ing, Nerved with Hell's vin - dic - tive hate; On God's
3. Round thee (as the walls of Zi - on Do the ho - ly ci - ty stand) Is - ra -
4. See sal - va - tion's stand - ard flaunt - ing Proud - ly o'er the clash and din With her

10 3 3 3 3

shades the earth are greet - ing And the stars shine one<sup>3</sup> by one; Rouse thee fron - tier they're en - croach - ing, Christ - ian strike 'ere it's to late; To the
- el's Chief - tian, Ju - dah's Lion Stret - ches forth His sav - ing hand; Who shall bul - wark round thee vaunt - ing And de - fi - ant hosts of sin; Is - ra -

15

now go forth to bat-tle, List, the foe-man's camp is near; Hear ye field! who but a Christ-ian, Can de fy the wi-ly foe, Or de-harm thee—who de feat thee, Who shall tri-umph o'er thy fall While the -el, rall-y—nev-er falt-er, For-ward press in stead-y line, God hath not the war-whoop's rat-tle Mar-shall-ing both van and rear? Then a-feat the proud Phil- lis-tian, And se- cure his over- throw? Then a-"Lord of lords" shall greet thee, And ye an- swer to His call.

19

prom- ised—He'll not al- ter—Thou shalt con- quer, thou art mine.

Chorus

24

-wake, then a-wake, Then a-wake, put on strength, O Zi-on; Rouse they now to arms, a-wake a-wake

29

Fear no dread a-larms, Zi-on, a-wake.
Zi-on, Zi-on, now a-wake.

4x