1. Nev-er a day nears its sun - set, Ne-ver the sea turn - eth tide,
2. Ne-ver a day brings its bless - ings, But bids us with arms stretch'd wide,
3. Say, are you straight-en'd in spir - it, Say, does one pas-sion a - bide,
4. Oh, the glad light of God's cit - y, Oh, wel-com-ing gates flung wide,

11

But lamps are gone out in the dark - ness, Poor sin-ners for whom Christ has died.
Per - suade them a - way from their per - il, These sin-ners for whom Christ has died.
Oh, say, are you spend-ing your heart's blood For sin-ners for whom Christ has died?
God shows His dear love and His pit - y, To sin-ners for whom Christ has died.

For whom Christ died,
 For whom Christ died,
 For whom Christ died,
 For whome Christ died,

For whom Christ died,
 For whom Christ died,
 For whom Christ died,
 For whom Christ died,

How ma - ny pass out in - to dark - ness,
 Per - suadelest they pass in - to dark - ness,
 Oh, save from the hor - ror of dark - ness,
 Why need they pass out in - to dark - ness,

Poor sin - ners for whom Christ has died.
 These sin - ners for whom Christ has died.
 These sin - ners for whom Christ has died.
 These sin - ners for whom Christ has died.
